Friendly is not a Friendship: Building Social Awareness

May 5, 2022 6:30pm - 7:30pm

Everyone benefits from close friendships and/or romantic relationships, but relationships can be confusing and missteps can be embarrassing.

Robin Miller, from the Center on Disability and Development, will teach techniques to help your child understand how relationships develop, how boundaries change as relationships deepen, and how to know who they can trust.

Open to anyone who loves and supports a person with a disability.
